Class History

Motto: "Our aim, success; our hope, to win."

Class Colors: Crimson and Black Class Flower: American Beauty Rose

The class of '33, when it was first to be called the "class of '33", was just as green as any "frosh" class could be. But did it retain this appearance long? Emphatically, no, but before it could change its hue it had to have governing officers. Consequently, Miss Amberson, as adviser, William Johnston, Albert Happel, Helen Bellringer, Clyde Strite, and Elaine Kepner were installed and the class of '33 was merrily on its way to a notable career.

In '30-31, as the sophomore class, with Bill again for "prexy", '33 began to take part in extra-curricular activities: Blue and Gold, athletics, and Field Day chorus.

In September of 1931, Dan Frankforter was elected president. Again the class did not lag in school spirit, for a large portion of the members represented it in the Senior Orchestra, the Blue and Gold staff, the varsity teams, and "Oh, Doctor!"

As a fitting close to this year, a most successful Junior-Senior Prom was sponsored by the class of '33.

To lead the class in its seniority was chosen Albert Happel. Leading the Blue and Gold staff as editor-in-chief was Charles Gossard and co-operating with him were other journalistic members of the class.

Head managerships in varsity athletics were held by Douglas Danfelt in football, by Max Sulanke in boys' basketball, and by Loretta Barlup in girls' basketball. To rouse the spirit on the sidelines were Martha Beaver and Ralph Shearer, cheer leaders, and to rouse the spirit on the field and floor were William Johnston, football captain, Martin Stover, boys' basketball captain, and Bettie Tomlinson, girls' basketball captain. Reverting to the scholastic vein, we find as Wahian editor, Douglas Danfelt, and assistant editor, Albert Happel. The class exhibited well its musical talent, for a large number of its members functioned in the band, orchestra, and chorus.

The interests of the class during the term '32-'33 took on a social trend, for it sponsored successfully the Hallowe'en Party, Spring Frolic, and Dinner Dance.

Appreciation should be extended to the members of the faculty, Miss Amberson, Miss Witherspoon, Miss Allen, Miss Schue, Mr. Harbaugh, and Mr. Baugher, who, as advisers, helped to guide '33 to a successful commencement.

Class Will

I, THE CLASS OF 1933 of the High School of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, having reached the apex of my career, possessing a full measure of knowledge and sanity, do hereby bequeath, devise, and confer all my worldly possessions and charges to the following beneficiaries, to-wit:

Upon the class of '34, I bestow, not as a reward for any outstanding ability, but rather as a consolation for long endurance, the name of Seniors and a right to the inevitable prestige with the esteemed members of the faculty—prestige so honorably earned by the merits of my well-deserving members.

To the aforesaid successors to my prominent position, I reluctantly grant the right to take possession of home-rooms three, sixteen, nineteen, and twenty-five, with their undefiled, dignified atmosphere, and fervently hope that they will not instigate any degradation beyond the power of my "Sister Class" to restore.

To the coming juniors, I bequeath my well-known ability to talk back in self-defense.

To that class of "insignificant cradle warmers", commonly designated as frosh, I can merely leave a prayer, in the hope that some day, having experienced the dullest rays of knowledge, they may actually detect the light and commence an honest strife toward the insurpassable ideals established by my individual members.

Upon my several faculty advisers, I give my most hearty appreciation of their assiduous efforts which have done much to determine my present position.

To Mr. Harbaugh, my best periscope with which he may better detect and trace any personal affairs of his pupils.

To Miss Witherspoon, my loudest and most stern voice that she may make her students jump not only out of their seats, but literally out of their shoes.

To Mr. Strine, whose fondness for making pen and ink drawings during trying conversations with persistent antagonists is well known, all the "life-time" fountain pens which have survived my usefulness.

To Mr. Martin, my best botanical diagrams and drawings to be hung on his classroom walls in order to cover the spots thereon.

To Miss Allen, my most efficient reading glass whereby she may be able to recognize those junior shorthand characters.

To Miss Schue, I appropriate a volume of "Suggestions for All Programs" with which she may adequately supply the demands of program committees for extra-curricular activities.

Any person, whether trustee or direct beneficiary of this document, attempting to nullify, alter, invalidate, or in any way interfere with the above provisions, shall not only be deprived of all rights, privileges, or tangible possessions therein granted him or her, but shall also be sentenced to strenuous labor, for one to four years, according to the discretion of the jury selected by Mr. Keener, as an assistant to the local high school janitor and liable to a fine sufficient to supply Mr. Harbaugh's demand for pennies during the ensuing year.

Hereunto have I set my hand and seal, on this, the second day of June in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-three.

"Class of 1933"

Class Prophecy

If you insist, Mr. Class of Thirty-three, that this is your only request before passing on, I will certainly grant it and, by gazing into my unique crystal, observe those persons wearing your insignia in the year of 1945, but you must be patient and quiet while I find the abodes of your widely scattered class.

The crystal is clearing. Directly in front of me, I see a small office on the outskirts of Greencastle, bearing the shingle, "CHARLES GOSSARD AND ROY ANGLE, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW." The door is now opening and at one side of the barren room stands Roy, practicing his speech for a street corner session, while, at the other, Charles is composing a sales line for the chief barker in the Strine and Mathias Medicine Show.

The crystal fades. Now, it grows brighter—yes, much brighter! Here is an elaborate beer garden just off 42nd Street, which is owned and managed by Bruce Neibert. Among his employees, I recognize Robert McCleary behind the bar; Raymond Gelwick, Robert Foreman, and Norman Garling gracefully serving the beverages; and Mary June Flohr and Kenneth Scheaffer entertaining with an astounding dance. In a remote corner sit William Johnston, Dan Frankforter, and Donald Snider, rather boisterously discussing the antics of their pet stocks.

Now, on the western coast of the continent, in a neatly furnished bungalow in Beverly Hills, I see Aldus Bonebrake and Camilla Howe ardently rehearsing a scene from their pending production, "Spading Up the Earth". If they are merely working overtime, they are thoroughly enjoying it.

The crystal transports me across the Pacific Ocean into the heart of India, where I can detect a small village in which The Reverend Doctor D. Roy Stoner and missionaries, Faith Benshoff, Margie Kuhn, and Mildred Wertz, are living very happily in their crudely constructed mission.

Back in Waynesboro, the wearers of your jewelry grace a great number of the business establishments, either as employees or customers. However, I am able to determine the actual position of only a few of them. Carolyn Stitely and Jeanne Solliday are at the height of contentment while chatting and chewing over their work in the sales department of the Stone and Lux Chewing Gum Factory.

Across the street in her up-to-date studio, Doris Jackson is just putting the finishing touches on her painting, "Love's Labor Regained", for the cover of Gertrude Nevin's popular magazine, "Love Tales". The perfectly contented couple, represented in the painting, bear a marked resemblance to Bettie Tomlinson and Eugene Barnhart.

A few doors down the street, in the town's most exclusive dress shoppe, Mary Benedict is rearranging her entire stock after spending the afternoon in a fruitless endeavor to make a sale to the Countess de Van, known to you as Elaine Kepner.

I have got glimpses of numerous other "33" men and women scattered over the city, but I will not take time to enumerate them, for I have just noticed something that promises to be of greater interest.

Speeding eastward on Main Street, in an old Ford roadster are Max Mackley, Austin Hess, Miriam Miller, and Carrie Rebok, all of whom are in a state of animation which would suggest the anticipation of a big party. At the hospital, they turn northward, barely missing Robert Durst and Merle Brubaker, who are replacing an old gas line, and continue speeding toward the Country Club. The rattling Ford nears the Club, the general appearance of which suggests that some social function is taking place within, but it does not enter the driveway. How strange! Let's have a glance at the interior to see just what is going on. Now, I understand. Amid a lovely floral decoration, Helen Martin and Margaret Brown are officiating as hostesses at a bridge luncheon of the Elevated Chin Club.

Again turning my attention to the group in the roadster, I find that they have come to a stop in front of White Mills and are entering the old dilapidated building where a party for the employees of the Shearer and Sheffler Stage Settings Factory is under full sway. The other guests include the majority of the factory owners' co-operative classmates and their wives or lady friends.

The scene again changes and I find myself in a large courtroom in Philadelphia. Max Sulanke and Clyde Strite are pleading, before Judge Richard Null, the case of their client, Louise Armstrong, who is suing Samuel Stine for damages done to her limousine by a bullet fired from the defendant's rifle, while he was brushing up on his target shooting.

The crystal grows very dim. Now, it is clearing and I see a business section of Paris, France. In a quaint little shop stands Maree Riley, who, it seems, has devoted her attention to the manufacture of cosmetics and, having become proficient in the French language, has opened a beauty shoppe in that city.

Once more we return to New York City, where, in the Martha Faust Tea Room, I recognize, under the guise of a successful scientist, none other than Raymond Harbaugh, who is gossiping with Helen Benedict. Mr. Harbaugh still seems to know all the news and he certainly is letting Helen in on it.

"Oh! I almost forgot to tell you," he says. "Last week I attended a concert presented by your old boy friend, Douglas Danfelt, given in one of the largest auditoriums in—".

But Helen didn't find out if it was in New York or Blue Ridge Summit, for at this moment Mrs. William Johnston, formerly Loretta Barlup, and Cletus Fox pass the window and Mr. Harbaugh is out on the street in a second to check up on them.

The crystal fades. No more can I see.

Helen Bellringer Benedict

Academic; Class Secretary 1-2-3-4; Blue and Gold 2-3-4; Wahian 4; Prom Com. 3; Live Wire Club 2-3; Choral Club 3-4; Hi-Y 3-4; Christmas Play 3-4; Thanksgiving Play 3; Volleyball 4; Operetta 3; Library Club 1-2.

Helen is an important spoke in our class wheel, for she is an example of dependability and leadership. She does not let her desire for knowledge detract from her sociability.

Martha Faust

General; Window Trimming 1; Live Wire Club 2; Glee Club 3; Thanksgiving Play 3; Volleyball 4; Wahian 4; Blue and Gold 2-3-4; Class Treasurer 2-3-4; Library Club 1-2-3-4.

If Pat ever once slipped from the straight and narrow path in her four years of high school, nobody has ever been able to discover it. The Wahian owes her much; the library will be at a loss without her.

Albert Happel

Academic; Class President 4; Vice-President 1-3; Wahian 4; Choral Club 4; Science Club 3; Travel Club 2; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Christmas Play 3-4; Thanksgiving Play 2; Prom Com. 3.

Ab Happel—a name that flashes throughout W. H. S. just as the proverbial shot flashed around the world. Wahian associate editor, senior class president, oh, there's just no limit to the evidences of Ab's popularity and ability.

Dan Frankforter

General; Basketball 1-2; Track 1-2-3; Nature Club 2; Athletic Club 3; Choral Club 4; Class President 3; Vice- President 2-4; Blue and Gold 2-3-4; Wahian 4; W Club 4; Football 3-4; Thanksgiving Play 2; Operetta 3.

Meet our athlete, artist, and crooner! While another fellow is still talking, Dan has done just a little better than most of us could do. What more can be said of any man?

Clyde Strite

General; Basketball 4; Athletic Club 3-4; Class Treasurer 2-3-4; Class Basketball 1-2-3; Hi-Y 2-3; Prom Com. 3.

Strite's athletic ability and his genial and hearty disposition have kept him constantly in the limelight. His interpretation of French would make Lafayette turn over in his grave!

Roy Angle

Academic; Travel Club 2; Dramatic Club 3-4; Thanksgiving Play 3; Hi-Y 3-4.

Conscientiousness and persistence are two outstanding traits of Roy. At least the latter will be of great value in his chosen career, that of a lawyer. May he win all of his cases.

Louise Armstrong

General; Thanksgiving Play 4; Operetta 3; Class Basketball 2-3-4; Athletic Club 2-3; Dramatic Club 4; Prom Com. 3; Sorority 4.

"She's neat and she's sweet, and she just can't be beat." Overflowing with personality, Wheezer captures all hearts and charms all eyes. Anita Loos must have been referring to her in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes".

Hilda Avey

General; Library Club 3-4.

Ambitious and capable, Hilda keeps her mind bent on studious activities. Consequently, she has been proclaimed the winner of numerous essay contests.

Betty Baker

Home Economics; Christmas Play 1; Nature Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Dramatic Club 4; Prom Com. 3.

In addition to being a good student, Betty possesses a kind and genial spirit, which enables her to be one of our truest comrades with whom we have spent four cherished years.

Theresa Baker

Commercial; Current History Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Choral Club 4; Wahian Typist 4.

Theresa is one of our commercial students. She is always dependable and efficient in whatever she undertakes. In her future work may she continue as earnestly as she has in the past.

Loretta Barlup

Academic; Basketball 3; Athletic Club 3; Rifle Club 4; Basketball Manager 4; Prom Com. 3.

In for mischief? Just rarin' to go. But is she ambitious? Delightfully so! Tubby gives an outward appearance of quietness—but, once you know her, you will never regret it.

Eugene Barnhart

General; Wahian 4; Nature Club 2; Choral Club 3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Orchestra 2-3-4; Prom Com. 3; Football 2.

Gene is a fiddle player of no mean calibre, besides possessing those qualities necessary in forming a winning personality. Although it's a dead proposition, his future is expected to be that of undertaking. Capable, dependable, and true—that's Barney.

Martha Beaver

General; Blue and Gold 2-3-4; Wahian 4; Cheer Leader 3-4; Field Day Chorus 1-2; Class Basketball 2-3; Sorority 4; Intra-Mural Manager 4; Operetta 3; Prom Com. 3; Athletic Club 2-3; Choral Club 3-4.

Can she yell? Can she sing? Marty with her fine soprano voice has always been loyal, taking an active part when needed. Good fortune is awaiting this versatile lady.

Mary Bellringer Benedict

Academic; Blue and Gold 2-3-4; Choral Club 3-4; Hi-Y 3-4; Wahian 4; Live Wire Club 2-3; Operetta 3; Christmas Play 3-4; Prom Com. 3; Library Club 1-2.

Flaming-haired Mary has been a shining light to W. H. S. Her circle of friends proves that she is a most interesting companion and a splendid pal. It is a privilege to be in that circle.

Faith Benshoff

Academic; Travel Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Choral Club 3-4; Hi-Y 4; Operetta 3; Christmas Play 3-4.

A winning smile, a willing way, a talent for singing and we have Faith. When she knows that real fun is afoot, she drops her usual reserve and enters into the activity wholeheartedly.

St. Claire Benshoff

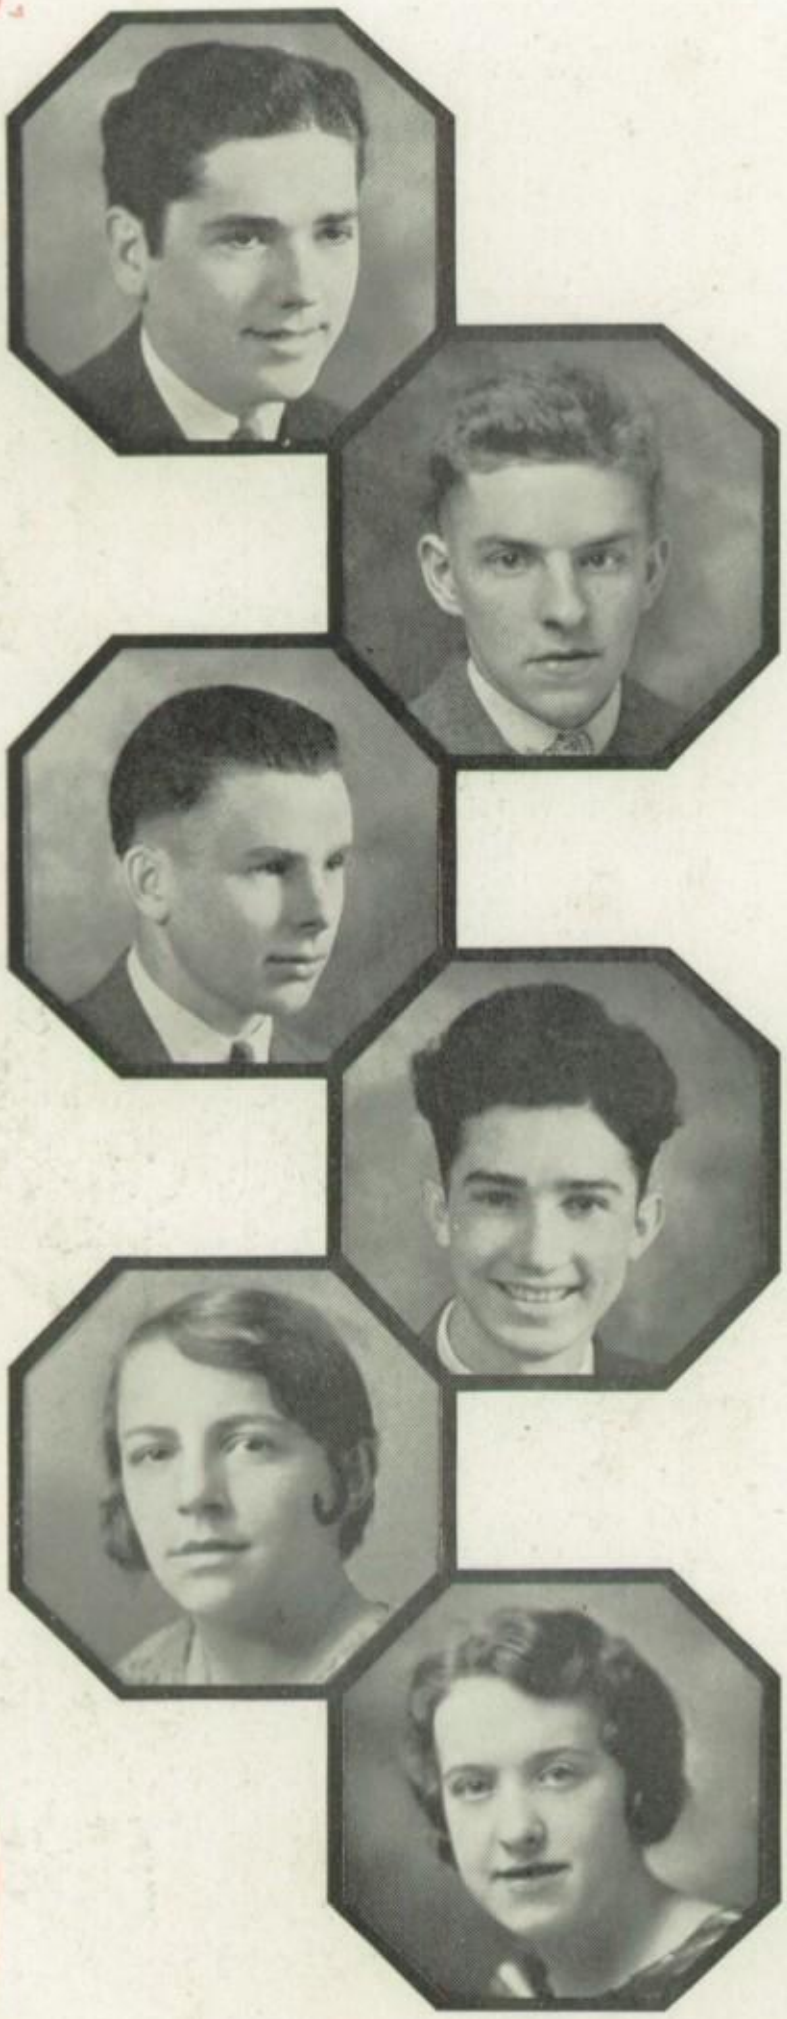
General; Thanksgiving Play 2-3; Christmas Play 2-3-4; Nature Club 2; Choral Club 3-4; Operetta 3; Class Pianist 2; Glee Club 3.

St. Claire is often solemnly angelic in appearance, but he has a never-failing wit. His musical ability has influenced his future, for we are informed that he expects to make music his profession.

Herbert Benson

Academic; Wahian 4; Band 1-2-3; Debating Club 2; Science Club 3-4; Hi-Y 1.

Herby's interest in science has led him to choose medicine as a profession. Because of his persistence, he ought to be successful—at least, financially.



Aldus Bonebrake

Commercial; Track 3; Athletic Club 3; Dramatic Club 4.

Meet W. H. S.'s Buddy Rodgers. The winning smiles of this jovial commercial will be remembered by—members of all the classes.

Richard Bonebrake

Academic; Project Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Thanksgiving Play 3; Dramatic Club 4.

Peck has not revealed his ambitions, but we are sure that when he gets the proper incentive he will make the world sit up and take notice.

Frederick Bowman

Cooperative; Science Club 3; Aviation Club 4.

Fred, a co-op who is always busy whether in school, in the shop, or on the track, promises to be one of Waynesboro's outstanding mechanics in a few years.

Richard Boyer

Commercial; Project Club 2; Rifle Club 3-4; Rifle Team 4; Blue and Gold Typist 4; Wahian Typist 4.

Dick is one of those "regular guys", who has won everyone's good will by his charming personality. The two student publications have benefited by his ability as a typist.

Ethel Brame

Commercial; Class Basketball 1-2; Home Economics Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Kodak Club 4.

Exceedingly quiet and reserved, this diminutive maiden has won admiration because of her gentle speech and disposition. We wish her all success.

Helen Brindle

Home Economics; Library Club 2-3-4; Live Wire Club 2-3; Thanksgiving Play 3.

Helen is one of those ambitious lassies who keep our library on a paying basis. Not only in this capacity, but always is she ready to lend a helping hand. A generous, determined, good-natured pal is Helen.

Robert Brindle

Commercial; Experimental Psychology Club 2; Kodak Club 3-4.

If this jolly and companionable chap has the temper that is supposed to go with red hair, he has never made it known to his fellow-students.

Margaret Brown

Commercial; Window Trimming 1, Hi-Y 2-3-4; Sorority 3-4; Intra-Mural Manager 4; Blue and Gold 3; Operetta 3; Travel Club 2; Choral Club 3-4.

"A wonderful smile, an infectious laugh. She's the kind of girl that stands the gaff!" Want a clever, original idea? Ask Tootsie! She is always present when there is something doing.

Merle Brubaker

Commercial; Project Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Athletic Club 4.

Quiet and cheerful, Merle betokens a deep interest in his commercial studies. This should help to make him successful in his future work.

Vera Crider

Commercial; Dramatic Club 2-3; Choral Club 4.

Quick, spirited, witty, interesting, and interested, this describes Vera. She is always ready for a good time, but willing to lend a sympathetic hand. May the best of luck be hers in whatever she does!

Mary Crouse

Commercial; Athletic Club 2-3; Archery Club 4; Thanksgiving Play 3.

Breezy and animated with a generous sprinkling of pep, Mary pursues her way undaunted from commercial assignments in school to social activities, with the same extraordinary success.

Evelyn Damuth

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Live Wire Club 4.

Evelyn, though apparently happy-go-lucky and with an abundance of giggles, is quite an efficient commercial. May she retain her cheerfulness wherever she goes.

Douglas Danfelt

Academic; Football Manager 4; Wahian Editor 4; Blue and Gold 3-4; Choral Club 4; Prom Com. 3; Dramatic Club 3; Thanksgiving Play 2-3; Band 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 3-4; Hi-Y 1-2-3-4.

Doug's value to his class has been so much in evidence that it would be useless to enumerate his activities. Music is his hobby, but we see in it his profession. A successful career to him!

Dorothy Davidson

General; Orchestra 1-2-3-4; Choral Club 3-4; Curiosity Club 2; Dramatic Club 3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Sorority 3-4; Class Basketball 2; Wahian 4.

Dot comes and goes with a smile—taking life easily, treasuring the brightest moments. She can touch your very heart strings by merely drawing the bow over her precious fiddle. This Dot certainly has a lot of dash.

Charles Davis

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Orchestra 2-3-4; Band 4; Choral Club 4.

Quiet at times, but not always, is our trumpeter, Boney. He has won the approval of all by his efficient work.

Margaret Devor

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Choral Club 4.

Peg is training herself to enter and conquer the business world. Her disposition, attitude, and manners all merge into one word—sincerity.

Elmer Dick

Commercial; Psychology Club 2; Choral Club 3; Dramatic Club 4.

Elmer, a literary-minded person, spends most of his time writing plays and essays. We haven't learned where he experiences his plots, but he gets them.

Eloise Dorand

Home Economics; Nature Club 2; Kodak Club 3-4.

Break through Eloise's reserve and you will find a valuable friend. She is full of fun, really more peppy than merely an ordinary school mate would suspect. In fact, she's a friend you would treasure.

Robert Durst

General; Rifle Club 3-4; Project Club 2.

Did anyone ever see Bob peeved? We dare say you haven't. He has that excellent quality of always being the same to everyone. You say you can't work that Physics problem? Ask Bob!

Ordean Ervin

Cooperative; T Square Club 4; Athletic Club 5; Science Club 6.

If you hear a ha! ha! and the remark, "Well, I'll make the best of it", Ordean is near. He must believe in the saying, "Laugh and the world laughs with you", which is not a bad motto.

Lloyd Fitz

General; Curiosity Club 4; Prom Com. 5; Rifle Club 5-6.

Fitzie is distinguished by his cheerful personality. With this trait and his keen sense of humor, he will undoubtedly be successful in whatever work he may choose.

Mary June Flohr

Academic; Hi-Y 3-4; Sorority 3-4; Dramatic Club 2-3-4; Christmas Play 2; Thanksgiving Play 3; Prom Com. 3.

Is there a limit to this lady's talents? Mary June has danced her way into our hearts. Nor must we forget her vocal and dramatic ability! W. H. S. will miss her versatile performances.

Robert Foreman

General; Class Basketball 1-2-3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Prom Com. 3; Rifle Club 3-4; Nature Club 2.

Those who are acquainted with Bob know that under the laughter and fun are earnestness and generosity. Bob's motto is "Let us endeavor so to live that when we die, even the undertaker will feel sorry."

Mildred Forsythe

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2-4; Travel Club 3; Blue and Gold Typist 4.

"Silence is golden"—except at the typewriter—is Mildred's maxim. Besides being a very capable "stenog", she has proved herself a worthy classmate.

Cletus Fox

General; Hi-Y 4; Basketball 4; Class Basketball 3; Athletic Club 3-4; Intra-Mural Manager 4; Wahian 4.

It hasn't taken this lad four years to prove his ability. He has participated enthusiastically in athletics and other activities. The Wahian wishes him luck in the future.

Martha Frantz

Commercial; Class Basketball 2; Live Wire Club 2; Athletic Club 3; Choral Club 4; Hi-Y 4.

Fair haired and blue eyed is our sweet dispositioned Mats. When she makes a friend she keeps one, but we wonder how she remembers such a host of 'em!

Gertrude Funk

Commercial; Library Club 1-2; Homemaking Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Archery Club 4.

No wonder brunettes haven't a chance. Gertie's highest ambition is to become a model for some exclusive dress shop. She's destined to bring home the laurels, for "figures never lie!"

Margaret Funk

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Live Wire Club 4.

Peppy, obliging, and fun-loving—three of the characteristics which make Margaret the kind of person the class of '33 is glad to call a member.

Julian Gale

Commercial; Class Basketball 2-3-4; Commercial Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4.

Buzz is the fun of the senior commercial group. His droll manner of speaking has a habit of just driving away one's blues. If there were more like him, there would be no depression.

Norman Garling

General; Blue and Gold 1-2; Choral Club 4; Glee Club 3; Class Basketball 1-2-3-4; Operetta 3; Rifle Club 3-4; Jr. Orchestra 1-2.

A crash... A bang... Hearty laughter.. Enter Norm. Here is a witty, clever, and peppy fellow who is willing to help others at any time—in trouble or out.

Raymond Gelwicks

General; Football 3-4; Track 3; Athletic Club 3-4, Class Basketball 3-4.

This cheerful lad from Wayne Heights has gained a place for himself in the hearts of the students of W. H. S. His congeniality will make for him a brilliant future.

Alfred Gift

Commercial; Nature Club 2; Kodak Club 3; Science Club 4.

Alfred is the sort who says little unless the subject under discussion is worth while. That is more than we can say of most of our classmates.

Charles Gossard

Academic; Blue and Gold 2-3-4; Editor 4; Wahian 4; Hi-Y 2-4; Travel Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Typewriting Club 4.

Charlie, one of our most popular classmates, has the knack of always being the leader among the scandal-mongers. Since he has also displayed his journalistic ability, we prophesy a combination of these two interests as a future profession.

Gladys Grove

General; Live Wire Club 2; Kodak Club 3; Typewriting Club 4.

"Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of a wonderful girl who was educated here."

Gladys has made friends by making life worth while for many by her friendly smile.

Hazel Harne

Commercial; Career Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Dramatic Club 4; Hi-Y 4; Operetta 3; Christmas Play 1-2; Thanksgiving Play 2.

Hazel is a jovial little miss whose commercial efficiency and dramatic ability have made her an invaluable classmate.

Elva Harrison

Academic; Local History Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Typewriting Club 4.

Elva believes that to work while you work and to play while you play is the best way to do things. Her cheerfulness and willingness to help others have gained for her a host of friends.

Austin Hess

General; Advertising Club 2; Science Club 3-4.

Never let outward appearances deceive you. Hessie may appear quiet and unassuming, but upon acquaintance he proves himself a true friend and sport. No one can claim a truer and squarer pal than him.

Marie Hollinger

Commercial; Career Club 2; Athletic Club 3; Live Wire Club 4.

Here is a very cheerful-looking girl and looks are not deceiving, for Beckey is always ready for a good time. She makes us wish that there were more like her.

Mary Hoover

Home Economics; Travel Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Choral Club 4.

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary," was not written about this little maiden, because she is one of our most agreeable friends. Dame Rumor says that Mary intends to put into practice some of her domestic theories, acquired during the last four years.

Omer Hopwood

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Athletic Club 3; Swimming Club 4; Class Basketball 4.

Omer is one of our most popular co-ops. His cheerfulness and dependability have won him many friends and will be of value in the future.

Camilla Howe

Academic; Dramatic Club 4; Live Wire Club 3; Thanksgiving Play 4; Sorority 4.

This young lady is capable of getting any thing she wants, however great or small. Is it determination or just good luck? Her capability interspersed with humor promises a good future.

Doris Jackson

General; Prom Com. 3; Wahian 4; Thanksgiving Play 4; Dramatic Club 4; Athletic Club 3.

Lovable, laughable, and adorable are a few of the adjectives we may use in describing Doris. She has a bewitchingly different personality. Although W. H. S. has only claimed her for two years, we will not soon forget this versatile lady.

William Johnston

General; Class President 1-2; Hi-Y 1-2-3-4; Nature Club 2; Athletic Club 3; Rifle Club 4; Blue and Gold 3-4; Football 1-2-3-4; Basketball 3; Track 1; Thanksgiving Play 2; Christmas Play 4; W Club 4.

For four years Bill has been a cause for admiration as a friend, athlete, executive, and fellow who can do well the things he is called to do. One cannot help but admire a conscientious fellow of this type.

Harry Kauffman

Cooperative; Project Club 2-4; Prom Com. 3; Rifle Club 3.

See that graceful figure on the dancing floor? That's Buzz, '33's Harold Teen, who captures the laurels as the best dancer in the senior class.

Elaine Kepner

Academic; Class Treasurer 1; Class Basketball 2-3-4; Operetta 3; Christmas Play 2; Curiosity Club 2; Library Club 3-4.

A charming brunette is Elaine. If she keeps her affairs as straight and uniform in life as she keeps books in the library, we know she'll never have any trouble.

Kenneth Kepner

Academic; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Project Club 2; Rifle Club 3-4; Class Basketball 1-2.

Take notice. This is Kenny, the champion chess player of Waynesboro. We are sure this skill will serve him in anything he undertakes, for he has surely displayed good sportsmanship.

Pansye Kinley

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2-3; Archery Club 4.

Dignified and pensive, this member of our class has lived up to her name. It is certain that in the future these qualities will be an asset, not a detriment.

Betty Kirk

Commercial; Library Club 3; Archery Club 4.

Betty is one of those girls whom people do not easily forget, for she possesses both scholastic ability and a fun-loving disposition. Her weakness is tripping the light fantastic.

Virginia Knepper

Academic; Culture Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Typing Club 4; Prom Com. 3; Hi-Y 4;

An artist on the piano, this brunette is also quite a shark when it comes to school work. In future years, Who's Who will have a place for this classmate.

Lester Kriner

Commercial; Nature Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Athletic Club 4; Blue and Gold Typist 4; Wahian Typist 4.

Although Lester occasionally bursts out in a storm of indignation, "It is an ill wind that blows no good", for after the tempest has passed, he has a kind word and smile for everyone.

Margie Kuhn

Academic; Travel Club 2; Dramatic Club 3-4; Hi-Y 4.

Margie is not outstanding in any line of work. Why? Because she is excellent in them all. Her true sincerity makes her a friend to be valued.

James Lizer

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Archery Club 4.

First impressions of Jimmy are not lasting, for he is as mischievous as any of us and is always willing for a good time.

Florian Lux

Academic; Hi-Y 4; Rifle Club 4.

Florian's ambition is to become an aviator. But since he is so mild tempered, we wonder how he could ever "get up in the air". Don't soar too high, Florian.

Robert McCleary

Academic; Orchestra 3-4; Band 2-3; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Woodwork Club 2; Kodak Club 3; Choral Club 4; Christmas Play 2; Operetta 3; Prom Com. 3.

This boy, "noted" at least in regard to his trombone, makes an impression when strutting with the Wayne Band. Bob suggests that he has chosen to be an engineer. May he be successful.

Catherine McDowell

General; Library Club 3-4; Travel Club 2; Class Basketball 2-3-4; Volleyball 4.

Peppy, generally in the midst of things, and willing to help, Kitty has proved her capability in the library. We all appreciate her services.

Flossie McDowell

Commercial; Live Wire Club 2; Nature Club 3; Athletic Club 4; Class Basketball 4; Volleyball 4; Window Trimming 1.

A cure for blues is vivacious Flossie with her ever-present wit and understanding sympathy. Can't you see her eyes just sparkle with fun and mischief?

Mark McFerren

Commercial; Commercial Club 2; Kodak Club 3-4; Class Basketball 2.

Always hurried, never flurried, always good-natured and ready for anything, any time, anywhere—that's Mark.

Max Mackley

Commercial; H-Y 3; Commercial Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4.

Max seems to have a philosophy all his own. It is "I want to be happy, I have a right to be happy, and it all depends on me." To such a boy, life surely will be generous.

Clover Martin

Commercial; Class Basketball 2; Track 2; Athletic Club 2-3-4; Volleyball 4.

Clover is one of those modern, vivacious girls, always planning, always gay, who gets much fun out of life. Indeed, she has never been pursued by the demon—"Unpopularity".

Helen Martin

Academic; Library Club 1-2-3-4; Operetta 3; Thanksgiving Play 3; Class Basketball 3; Sorority 4; Blue and Gold 4; Debate 4; Volleyball 4; Prom Com. 3.

Bubbling over with enthusiasm, Sue with her musical ability and ready wit is a very congenial classmate. Her interest in library work seems to have influenced her choice of a profession.

Martha Martin

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Travel Club 3; Kodak Club 4.

Martha, with her indistinguishable twin, has acquired the reputation of never being on time —for school. Perhaps a "Big Ben" would be a fitting graduation gift.

Mary Martin

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Travel Club 3; Kodak Club 4.

Did anyone ever see Mary without her giggle or without her sister? They all form such inseparable pals that it's hard to tell the one from the others.

Mary E. Martin

General; Choral Club 4.

Mary may be absent-minded, but when it comes to qualities for friendship, personality, or character, she ranks as high as the next.

Kent Mathias

Academic; Band 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 1-2-3-4; Choral Club 4; Hi-Y 3-4; Wahian 4; Science Club 3; Operetta 3; Guidance Club 2; Thanksgiving Play 3; Christmas Play 3; Prom Com. 3.

This boy is always active, whether as an interested participant in other people's affairs, as a talented musician, or as a gifted dramatist.

Lorraine Miller

General; Dramatic Club 3; Typing Club 4.

This quiet maiden is a star pupil in French. Although of a studious inclination, she still finds time for extending kindness.

Miriam Miller

Commercial; Class Basketball 4; Volleyball 4; Thanksgiving Play 3; Nature Club 2; Library Club 1-2-3-4; Sorority 4.

Quiet? Oh, no! Not Mim. We are sure that her friendly chatter will be greatly missed not only by students, but also by the faculty.

Bruce Neibert

General; Rifle Club 3; Project Club 4.

Bruce is that quiet, scholarly type who thinks more than he talks. His genial disposition and dignity will be of great value to him in his later work.

Gertrude Nevin

Academic; Blue and Gold 3; Choral Club 3-4; Class Basketball 2-4; Track 1-2-3; Library Club 2; Travel Club 2; Christmas Play 2.

Gertie is the kind of person who will not change her opinion once it is given. She also possesses an abundance of initiative. Determined to be original, keep going.

Louise Newcomer

Academic; Blue and Gold 3-4; Hi-Y 4; Live Wire Club 3; Library Club 4; Prom Com. 3.

Louise is one of the most cheerful and peppy members of our class. By her enthusiasm and capability, she is assured success in the future.

Woodrow Nicodemus

Academic; Culture Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4; Football 4; Class Basketball 3; Varsity 4; Thanksgiving Play 3.

Who is that broad-shouldered tease over there? Why, that's Woody, one of our star athletes. We expect some day to hear that he is competing with Coach Engle in producing championship teams.

Helen Noll

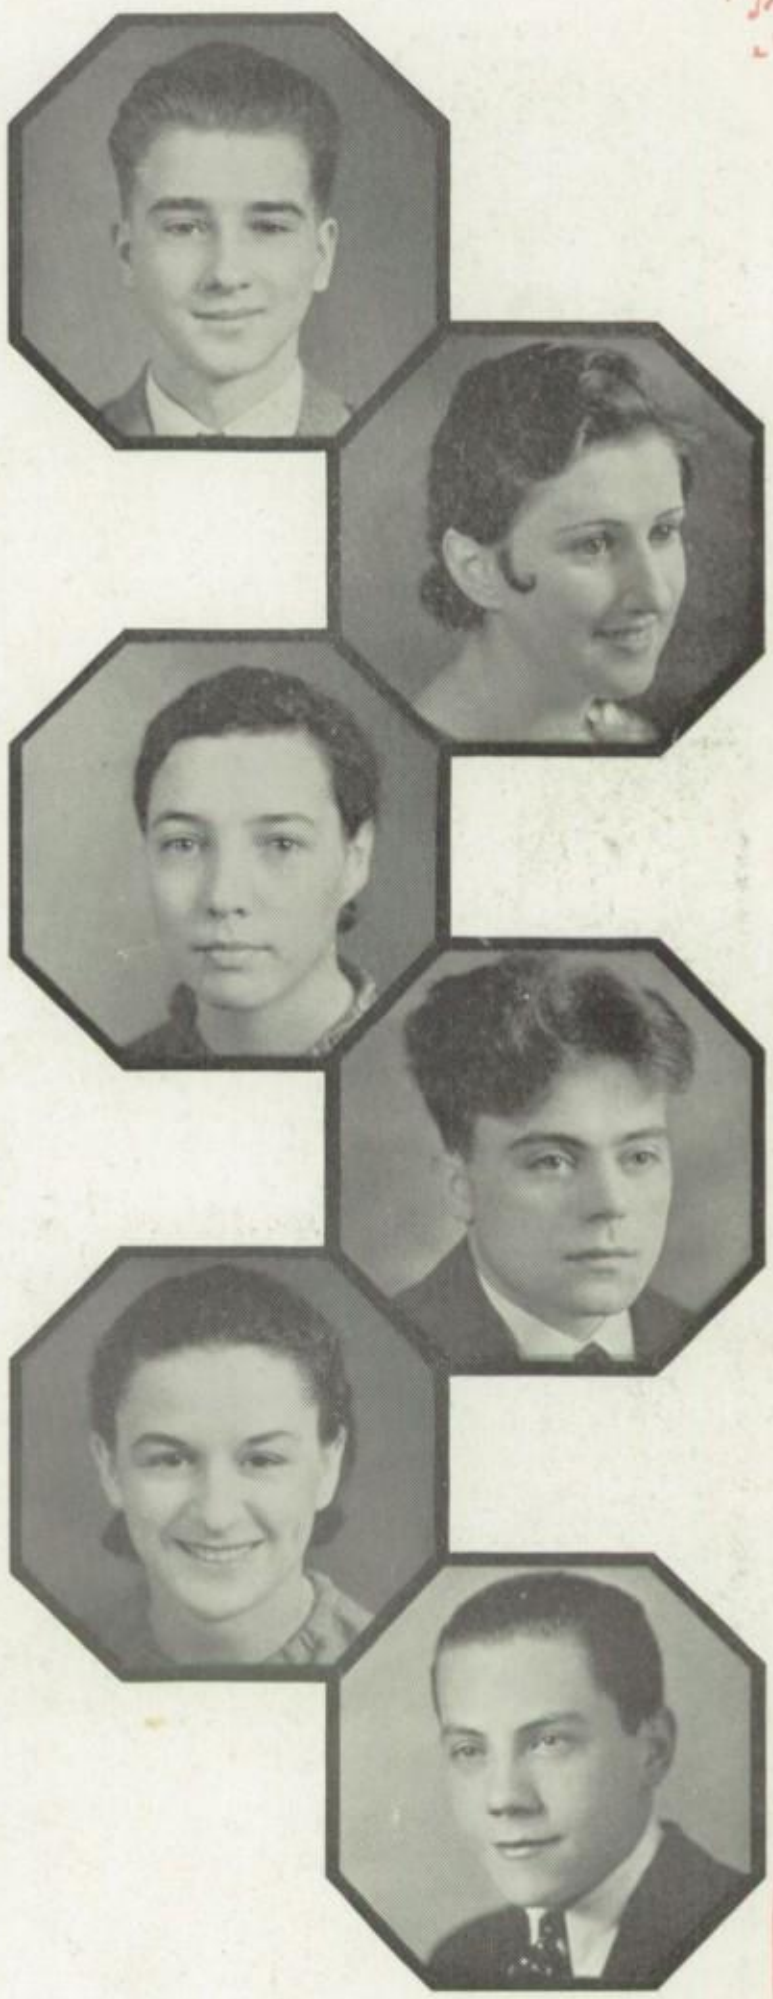
Commercial; Athletic Club 2; Library Club 1-2-3-4; Class Basketball 1-2-4.

One hundred per cent all-American girl—fifty per cent of snap and pep for our modern days and fifty per cent of poise, quietness, and culture of olden days. Without her infectious laugh, certain classes would be incomplete.

Richard Null

Commercial; Rifle Club 3-4.

Richard has been with us only two years, but in that time we have found him to be a thorough and tireless worker who accomplishes whatever he sets out to achieve.



Valerie O'Toole

General; Library Club 1-2-3-4; Travel Club 2; Class Basketball 1.

Quiet manner and reserve will be factors in Valerie's future success. Because she has served so well our library, her absence will be keenly felt next year.

Catherine Paull

Commercial; Live Wire Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Archery Club 4.

Kate has a most cheerful and obliging disposition. Here is a pleasure-loving and intelligent-minded individual. As a friend, when a friend is needed, there is none better.

Harry Peiffer

General; Science Club 3; Track 3; Athletic Club 4.

Big of heart, big of body, with a smile or a story: that's Harry. He has displayed a persevering nature which will be an asset to him in his chosen profession, the ministry.

John Price

Commercial; Nature Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Science Club 4.

John is like a gleam of sunshine on a rainy day. Because he possesses an unlimited amount of patience, perseverance, and pep, he will never lack friends.

Rosalie Price

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Choral Club 3-4; Operetta 3; Field Day Chorus 1-2.

Yes, she has blue eyes, and the kind of eyes that see things. Underneath that comfortably calm exterior lies a great deal of mischief. Our musical organizations will miss this versatile lassie.

Sophie Puican

Commercial; Home Economics Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4; Volleyball 4; Class Basketball 4.

Sophie is making a practical application of her business course, having a time for work and a time for less serious things. A more efficient typist would be difficult to find.

Carrie Rebok

Academic; Culture Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Kodak Club 4.

This winsome face does not seek attention, but cannot fail to attract it. Carrie is a rare compound of duty, frolic, and fun. In fact, she is the kind of girl to be around in cloudy weather.

Anna Rider

Commercial; Live Wire Club 2-3; Culture Club 4; Blue and Gold Typist 4.

This smiling miss is one of our commercial lassies of no mean ability, who uses her time —some for work and some for play.

Maree Riley

Academic; Sight Seeing Club 2; Dramatic Club 3-4.

We sometimes believe Maree knows more about the Aeneid than Virgil himself did. Conscientiously, she does her work from day to day in such a way that no little phase of it is neglected.

Virginia Rossi

Commercial; Class Basketball 2; Live Wire Club 2-3; Dramatic Club 4.

Virginia is distinguished as a gloom subtractor with a nature that adds joy to existence. She seems to be made of "Cheerful yesterdays and confident tomorrows."

Donald Rowe

Commercial; Track 3; T Square Club 2; Rifle Club 3-4; Hi-Y 1-2-3-4.

Dinny expects to carry on his future work in a higher plane than most of the class, for he wants to be another Lindbergh. We wish him success in this undertaking.

Edythe Sanders

Home Economics; Library Club 2; Journalism Club 3; Dramatic Club 4.

Edythe has become very efficient in her housekeeping art during the last four years. The mystery is who is going to derive the benefit from it!

Kenneth Schaeffer

Academic; Nature Club 2; Rifle Club 3-4; Orchestra 4; Prom Com. 3.

Ken surprised W. H. S. this year with his ability as a xylophonist. Since he is also interested in archaeology, we hope that he may some day have the privilege of opening a Pharoah's tomb.

Robert Shank

Commercial; Project Club 2; Biology Club 3; Athletic Club 4; Class Basketball 1-2.

An interesting, lively fellow is Bob. His eyes sparkling with merry mischief and the smile lurking close to the surface betray hidden fun. Yes, Robert is unique in personality!

Ralph Shearer

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Athletic Club 4; Cheer Leader 3-4; Prom Com. 3; Class Basketball 1-2-3; Hi-Y 4.

The characterization "short and snappy" fits Shearer to a T. His untiring efforts as cheer leader during the past two years are but a portion of his capabilities. He has the power of making and keeping friends. Undoubtedly, success is his goal.

William Sheffler

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Athletic Club 4; Stage Manager 4.

Any scenery to be shifted? See Bill—he's always willing to give his time to W. H. S. With his ambition and willingness to work, he ought to be successful in anything he undertakes.

Lore Shook

Academic; Orchestra 2-3-4; Operetta 3; Live Wire Club 2; Choral Club 3-4; Field Meet 1-2.

Lore makes the piano speak for itself when her trained fingers go over the keys. When we think of the contribution she has made in the last four years, we wonder how W. H. S. will get along without her.

Donald Silver

Academic; Curiosity Club 2; Science Club 3; Athletic Club 4; Band 3.

Don hasn't disclosed any definite plans for the future, but like Caesar he is ambitious. With his natural ability and congeniality, he should be successful in any type of work.

Catherine Smith

Commercial; Book Club 2; Travel Club 3; Dramatic Club 4.

Catherine, a dark-eyed lassie with ambition and intelligence, has a friendly smile to win her way through the world. With these traits, she is assured of success in the commercial field.

Mary Smith

General; Live Wire Club 3; Library Club 4.

Behold! An uncommon girl with a common name, with plenty of pep, something of a temper, enough of ambition, and a wealth of laughter. "Precious things come in small packages."

Donald Snider

Academic; Orchestra 4; Thanksgiving Play 3; Operetta 3; Project Club 2; Journalism Club 3; Choral Club 4; Volleyball 4.

Don fiddles his way through orchestra programs with his cello. Although interested in music and dramatics, he always finds time to do justice to his studies.

Evelyn Snively

Commercial; Homemaking Club 2; Travel Club 3; Live Wire Club 4.

Evelyn, another of our commercial classmates, lacks the boisterousness of the modern age, but we are sure she will make a capable and efficient "stenog".

H. Max Snowberger

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Science Club 4.

This dark-haired chap has proved to be not a ladies' man, but a lady's man. A fine one, too, she thinks and so do we.

Max M. Snowberger

General; Project Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Typing Club 4.

Max's ambitions, which are many and varied, are backed by a purpose that will prove their realization. His supply of friendly greetings does not seem to be easily exhausted.

Jeanne Solliday

Academic; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Sorority 3-4; Class Basketball 1-4; Volleyball 4; Dramatic Club 3-4; Operetta 3; Prom Com. 3; Library Club 1-2; Choral Club 3; Christmas Play 3.

Jeannie is a little bundle of vivacious personality who hails from Blue Ridge Summit. Since she is interested in the art of style designing, we shouldn't be a bit surprised to find her a capable manager of a smart shoppe.

Gladys Spangler

Academic; Travel Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Dramatic Club 4; Thanksgiving Play 2.

A demure little miss with a charming personality, fond of good times, yet not opposed to serious thought or work when the occasion arises, is Gladys.

Ernest Staines

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Science Club 3-4.

Ernest is not always serious, for he has his share of fun. He is a dependable, hard-working co-op, who believes in living up to his name.

Frances Stanley

General; Travel Club 3; Typing Club 4.

This young lady has that discretion and modesty, without which all knowledge is of little worth. She will never make an ostentatious parade of it, because she will rather be intent on acquiring more, than of displaying what she has.

Samuel Stine

Commercial; Nature Club 2; Rifle Club 3-4; Rifle Team Captain 4.

This good-natured and dependable youth is deeply interested in sharp shooting. Fate can't harm his success—he doesn't believe in luck. He believes only hard work and fair play bring success.

Carolyn Stitely

Academic; Orchestra 2-3-4; Choral Club 4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Sorority 3-4; Wahian 4; Class Basketball 3-4; Prom Com. 3; Library Club 1-2; Live Wire Club 2-3; Operetta 4.

Trustworthy and dependable, Vic is a person who does things in a big way. More power to her!

Catherine Stitely

Commercial; Dramatic Club 2-3-4.

Catherine is the kind of girl whose personality is enviable. By many she is acclaimed a willing worker and steadfast friend.

Ted Stone

General; Football 3-4; Basketball 3-4; Hi-Y 4; W Club 4; Archery Club 4.

Ted, with a football reputation, came from Alabama to W. H. S. where he has been a jolly good sport on the gridiron or off. Ted has expressed a desire for a chance to make athletics his life's work.

Roy Stoner

Academic; Debate 4; Football 2-3-4; Class Basketball 1-2-3-4; Band 1-2-3; Orchestra 2-3-4; Wahian 4; Project Club 2; Football Club 3; Choral Club 4; Prom Com. 3.

This accomplished young man seems to make use of his supply of "good wind". He has gained fame as a trumpeter and as a debater. We wish him just as much luck as a preacher.

Ruth Stouffer

Commercial; Live Wire Club 3; Home Economics Club 4.

Ruth is a charming person at whom to look and a friendly one with whom to be. Is it her smile, her eyes, or her ways? It must be all of her.

Ralph Strine

Academic; Psychology Club 2; Kodak Club 3; Science Club 4; Band 3; Thanksgiving Play 2.

Earnestness and accuracy, which have marked his high school career, are the characteristics which Ralph will carry with him into his chosen profession, law.

Max Sulanke

General; Basketball Manager 4; Nature Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4; Football 4; W Club 4.

Here's to a sportsman and pal! During his high school career, Max has made a worthy contribution to athletics, both as a team member and manager.

Thelma Tipton

Commercial; Thanksgiving Play 3; Christmas Play 4; Class Basketball 1-2; Live Wire Club 2; Dramatic Club 3-4; Blue and Gold Typist 4; Wahian 4.

Here abide abilities, brains, and a sense of sportsmanship. If you are a friend of Tippie, the biggest tribute lies in the fact that she recognizes you as such. Her winning personality and noteworthy achievements are destined to carry her far.

Bettie Tomlinson

Commercial; Class Basketball 1-2; Live Wire Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4; Varsity Basketball 3-4; Sorority 3-4; Blue and Gold 4; Wahian 4; Class Volleyball 4.

If Bettie, a pal and sport, plays the game of life in the manner that she plays basketball, she is bound to win.

Clara Trace

General; Basketball 3-4; Athletic Club 3; Track 3; Typing Club 4.

"A winning girl, with a winning way,
Who in most any game can play."

Surely everyone knows Trace with her sparkling blue eyes and ever ready fun. After you have met her you will always remember her winning ways.

Ruth Tracey

Commercial; Curiosity Club 2; Live Wire Club 3; Choral Club 4; Prom Com. 3.

Ruth came to us from Blue Ridge, Pa.
As a general rule she is quite gay.

Witty, pretty, and fun-loving—these words attempt to describe the garrulous miss from the mountains.

Mildred Wertz

Academic; Typing Club 4; Travel Club 2-3.

Mildred is one of those quiet people. She does big things, but is typified by "Virtue is its own reward." As a reward for concentration, Mildred should always have an A on her life's report card.

Kenneth Wetzel

Commercial; Commercial Club 2; Kodak Club 3-4.

This lad delivers messages with such speed that he always has time to help the mischief makers in the commercial group. A jollier pal than Ken would be hard to find.

Thelma Widdowson

Academic; Travel Club 2; Kodak Club 3; Typing Club 4.

Though of diminutive stature, Thelma has gained the respect of all. She has proved to us quite adequately that all good things come in small quantities.

Charles Wilson

Cooperative; T Square Club 2; Rifle Club 3; Archery Club 4; Band 3-4; Orchestra 4.

"Sax", sophs, and science comprise the interests of Charlie's life. We are sure his ingenuity will make a place for him in the world.

Arlene Wishard

General; Kodak Club 3; Orchestra 3-4; Dramatic Club 4; Band 4.

Arlene swings a wicked wheel in her Chrysler, but she gets there just the same. This demure lass has made many friends in her high school career; this speaks well for the future.

Genevieve Wishard

Commercial; Rifle Club 3; Dramatic Club 4; Wahian Typist 4.

Genevieve is a rather quiet-looking girl, but, oh, how she can talk! May she retain her cheerful disposition and amiable personality wherever she goes.

Chester Zimmerman

Academic; Debating Club 2; Dramatic Club 3; Typing Club 4; Hi-Y 1.

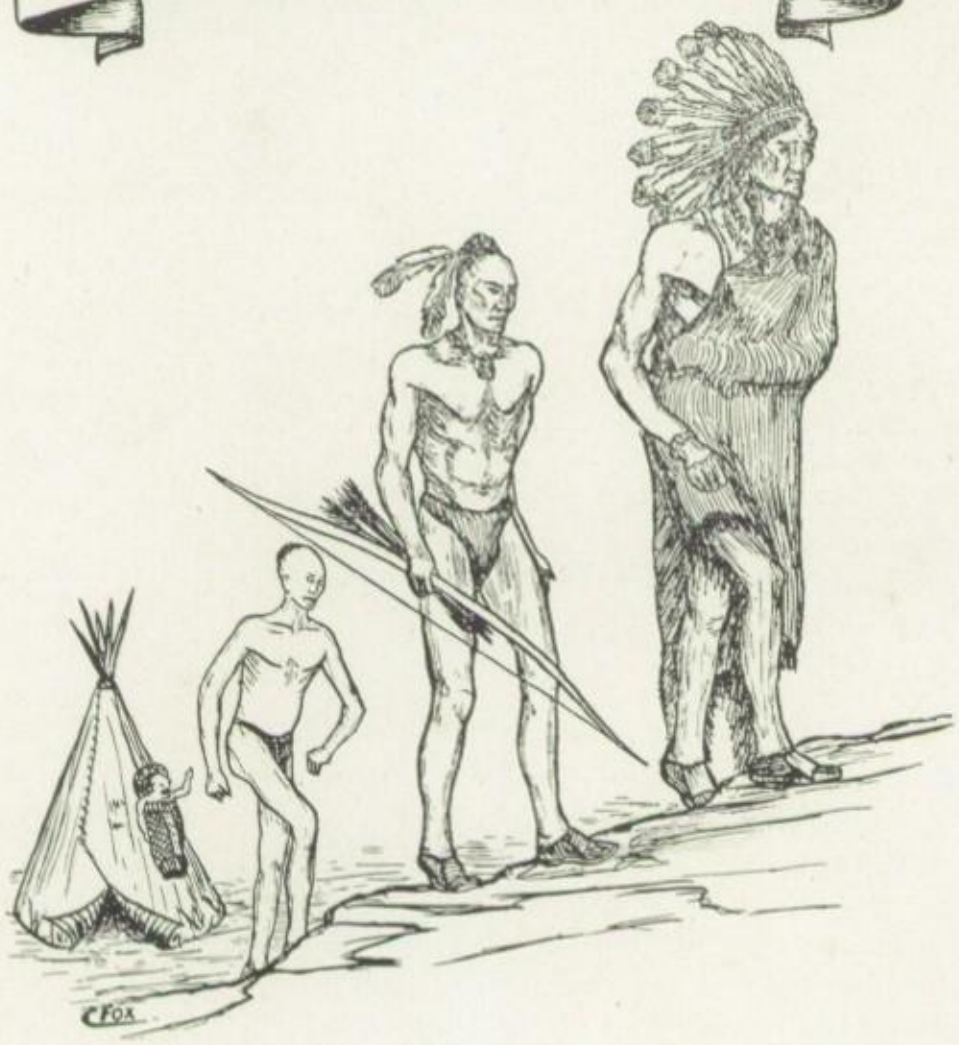
Chet is a good old scout. There has been no evidence of sprouting wings, but we hear that he expects to be called Reverend Zimmerman.

Kathleen Zody

Home Economics; Nature Club 2; Athletic Club 3-4; Volleyball 4.

Kathleen, a good example of snap and bustle, is an authority on confectioneries and other culinary arts. Why wield a domestic rolling pin? There must be a reason.

UNDERCLASSES



Junior Class

Quentin Florence	President
Aldene Ecker	Vice-President
Helen Thompson	Secretary
Dorothy Kauffman	Treasurer
Miss Anna Allen Mr. R. W. Harbaugh	Faculty Advisers

As we come to the present junior class, we find truth in the old saying, "There is strength in numbers", for in it is evidenced both quantity and quality.

Ten sturdy boys and eight loyal girls extended their efforts in producing successful athletic teams, while four members of the class of '34 gave of their time and talents for the bringing of debating laurels to W. H. S. The Blue and Gold Staff was supported by ten members of the junior class; also six capable members contributed their musical talents to the orchestra.

Whether or not there is to be a realization of the hopes and ambitions of freshman days is fairly well decided, for the completion of this year's program means the passing of the three quarter mark. The fact that they have displayed so capably their various talents seems to indicate that they are ready to assume the dignity of seniors.

The class of '35, one hundred twenty-one strong, entered into school life for the year 1932-33 with all the pep possible to a sophomore class which feels the necessity of introducing the membership of an incoming group to its Alma Mater.

After being in the center of things during their freshman year, the sophs lived up to their reputation by presenting three sturdy men and two capable girls to the varsity athletic teams. A number of the class also found places in the orchestra, band, and Blue and Gold Staff.

At the end of their sophomore year, the members of the class of 1935 look ahead to future years of study and work which will secure for them the realization of their aspirations.

Freshman Class

Miss Louise Fitz Mr. Paul Bechtel	Faculty Advisers

Stop! Look! Listen! Here comes the class of '36. Some classes stand out because of quantity; others, by virtue of quality. A strange body of freshmen were they, approximately one hundred and ninety in number, pouring into the Halls of Fame to receive initiation into W. H. S. The corridors were literally crowded with gawky, gaping "Frosh". Some marched as though going to battle; others, more brave, came in boldly, holding heads high, but most advertised the fifty-seven varieties, very green, awkward, and funny. (It must be admitted that they have proved since that they also have quality.)

The Rifle Club was organized in March, 1932. The organization is affiliated with the National Rifle Association at Washington, D. C., and adheres strictly to the rules and regulations as prescribed by the N. R. A.

The activities of the Rifle Club include both the theoretical and the practical side of firearms. The club for range practice is divided into three groups with an adviser in charge of each group. Members report for practice on the range each week.

Much time has been given to shooting for qualifications and awards, offered by the N. R. A., ranging from Pro-Marksman to Distinguished Rifleman. The club is also actively engaged in matches with other institutions and is this year entering several of the better marksmen in the National Individual Championship Match.

One of the most active organizations in W. H. S. is the Senior Girls' Hi-Y, which was formed in 1925. The meetings are held every Monday in the Y. M. C. A. during the school year.

There are four planks which the Hi-Y tries to uphold: clean sports, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living.

During the school year the club sponsors various social and benevolent projects.

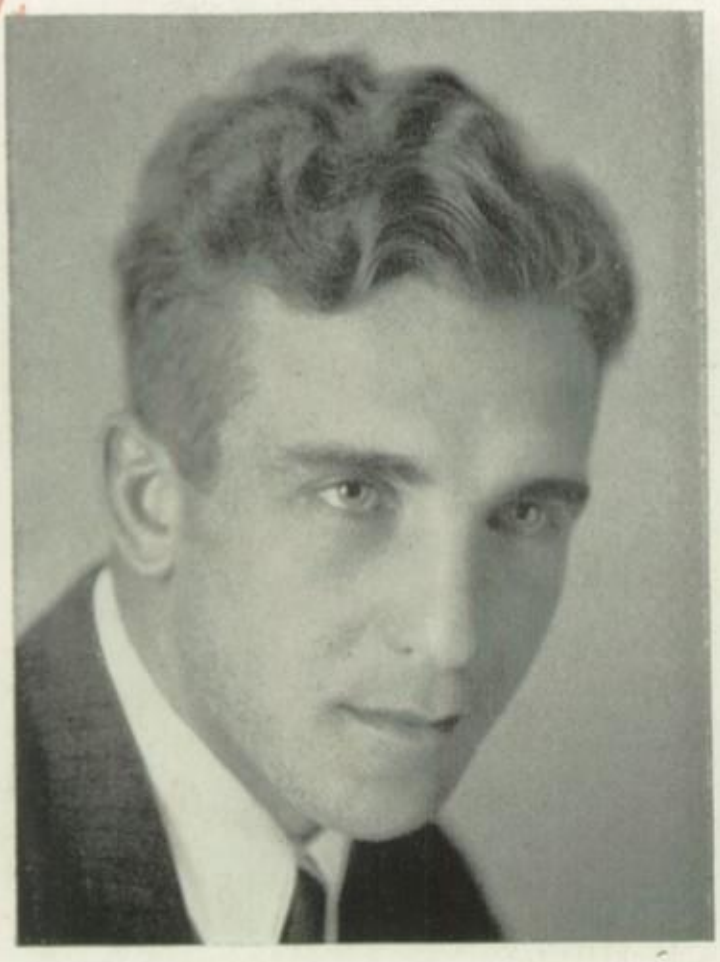
The Junior Boys' Hi-Y Club was organized in 1930 for the purpose of maintaining high standards among the boys of the grammar school and freshman class, who were not yet eligible for membership in the Senior Club. The purpose of the organization is to promote the standards of clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living among the boys.

ATHLETICS



COACH ENGLE

To Mr. Charles Engle, director of athletics in the Waynesboro High School for the past three years, belongs the sincere gratitude of the student body as well as a great part of the glory reflected in the athletic section of this WAHIAN, for under his direction varsity athletics have achieved a place of distinction that merits well the praise of the students.

COACH FITZ

The school offers its appreciation to Miss Louise Fitz for her efforts in producing one of the strongest girls' basketball teams ever witnessed in the Waynesboro High School. She has done much toward creating an interest and affording greater participation in girls' athletics, by introducing intra-mural sports in the school.

1932 Football Review

The November curtain of the 1932 football season brought to a close one of the most successful seasons that have been experienced in the Waynesboro High School. Coach Engle's team won four games, lost three, and tied two.

Early fall practice found two fully equipped teams working out on E. B. field. Eight varsity men from the team of 1931 reported at the initial call for candidates. It was around these eight men that Coach Engle built up a championship team.

The season opened September 24 with the Blue and Gold huskies holding to a 0-0 score the Alumni team, made up of former champions of the high school.

The following Saturday found the Tornadoes journeying to Harrisburg, where the William Penn High School with its rigid defense defeated them 34-0.

Back on the home gridiron for the William Penn High School of York on October 8, Captain Johnston and his mates broke the ice of defeat and marched down the field to smash the William Penn team with the weighty score of 18-0.

The second defeat was in store for the locals at Mechanicsburg October 15. The opponents pushed to the front in the last four minutes, leaving the Blue and Gold on the wrong end of a 12-0 score.

The following Saturday on the E. B. field, the Tornadoes played their first C. V. A. L. game in which they defeated Handley High of Winchester 13-0.

Saturday, October 24, the locals played Gettysburg High School with old man "Tough Luck" on their heels. Both teams were well matched and had plenty of confidence, but with a heavy injured list the Englemen were defeated 13-0.

Allegheny High team of Cumberland succumbed to a 12-0 defeat on the local field November 5.

Though having travelled south to Martinsburg on November 12, the Blue and Gold huskies encountered winter winds which were largely responsible for the fact that the most widely advertised contest of the C. V. A. L. season resulted in a 0-0 score.

The Waynesboro-Hagerstown game on Thanksgiving Day was enjoyed by more than the actual spectators, for it was broadcast by Station WJEJ. Before much of the game, which resulted in a 38-0 victory for W. H. S., had been played, Coach Engle sent in his reserve team.

Since, with the exit of '33, the squad will lose but five members, Stone, Johnston, Sulanke, Frankforter, and Stoner, we're betting on another championship in 1933.

1932-33 Basketball Review

Swinging into a stride which few opponents were able to halt, the Blue and Gold basketball squad of W. H. S. swept through its 1932-33 season, winning seventeen of twenty tilts and finishing with the C. V. A. L. championship title.

Led by Captain Stover, the all-star C. V. A. L. forward, the quintet of Coach "Rip" Engle succeeded in acquiring some notable achievements. Of the three defeats by the Alumni, Salisbury High School, and Penn Avenue High School, Cumberland, only one was on the home floor. The Tornadoes won every one of the games played in the C. V. A. League, defeating Hagerstown, Martinsburg, and Winchester.

In addition to the league games, the Blue and Gold Five found it easy to overcome such teams as Shippensburg State Teachers College Reserves, St. James Academy, Hanover, Mechanicsburg, and Silver Spring. A benefit game was played at the end of the season with Chambersburg as the opponents.

In spite of the fact that two of the team's strongest members leave with the class of '33, we prophesy for next year a championship team.

This year's basketball team, in spite of its being practically a new squad, was one of the most enthusiastic the high school has ever had the privilege to witness.

Games were played with Smithsburg, Hagerstown, Martinsburg, Hanover, and the Alumnae, as opponents. At no time did the W. H. S. lassies cease to battle for the good old Blue and Gold.

Girls' Intra-Mural Athletics

Athletic sports have been a source of real pleasure to the girls of the Waynesboro High School this year because of the intra-mural contests, which have proved to be far more practicable than anyone anticipated.

Intra-mural sports give almost every girl, who is interested in athletics, an opportunity to play on one team or another. The highest type of efficiency must be attained in a very short time, because a long and tedious training period is impossible.

One hundred twenty of the girls played volley ball and eighty participated in basketball.

There was a long, hard struggle between the classes to determine the most efficient team in volley ball. As a result of these contests, the seniors were declared the champions.

Everyone was much astounded at the results of the basketball games. The freshmen were the overpowering team and they were so exultant that they challenged even the varsity. The resulting match was a victory for the Blue and Gold sextet, but the challengers put up a game fight.

The latter part of this year the intra-mural enthusiasts will have the privilege of engaging in outdoor baseball, fieldball, and track.

It would not be fitting to have these games without awards. The point system of awards is being used. Girls who win 30 points are entitled to wear a class numeral; those who win 40 points, an intra-mural W. Each member of winning teams will be permitted to wear a class numeral regardless of the number of points to her credit.

Popular and full of Pep (with a capital P) are Marty, Kate, Ralph, and Red. Any time it is necessary to have action or yells, we can rely on these four cheer leaders to be on hand with "Fifteen Rahs for the Team!"

Much credit is due them for helping to instill in the student body the kind of school spirit which tends to send a team to action eager to win.

Jokes

The world is old, yet likes to laugh;
New jokes are hard to find;
A whole new editorial staff
Can't tickle every mind.

So, if you meet an ancient joke,
Decked out in modern guise,
Don't frown and call the thing a fake;
Just smile, don't be so wise.

Faith Benshoff: Was I laughing? I'm sorry.

Bus Driver: Hello, Idella, how are you this morning?

Idella Benchoff: Just fine, thank you.

Bus Driver: And how old are you?

Idella Benchoff: Please, sir I'd rather pay full fare and keep my own statistics.

* * * * *

Miss Schue: Did Caesar's disposition change much during his life?

Crawford Kirkpatrick: Well, he had more Gaul when he passed away than when he was born.

* * * * *

Flossie McDowell: Can you typewrite?

Clover Martin: Yes, I use the Biblical system.

Flossie: I never heard of it.

Clover: Seek and ye shall find.

* * * * *

Miss Hoover: Use the word fascinate.

Puffy Forthman: I have nine buttons on my vest, but I can only fasten eight.

* * * * *

Kenneth Wetzel: I'm always tired the first of April.

Donald Snider: Why?

Kenneth Wetzel: Who wouldn't be after a March of thirty-one days?

* * * * *

Clyde Strite: When he fell out of the window, did he hurt himself?

Max Sulanke: No, he had on his light fall overcoat.

* * * * *

Miss Witherspoon (absent-mindedly): Will everyone please keep quiet until I find out who is making that noise?

* * * * *

L. C. Smith: I suppose you've been through Algebra?

H. Benson: Yes, but I went through at night and couldn't see the place.

Clete Fox: You say you are perfectly normal?

Eugene Barnhart: Yes.

Clete: Do you light your cigarette with your right hand?

Eugene: Yes.

Clete: That's not normal; most people use a match.

* * * * *

Sis Garling, absent-mindedly writing a letter: P. S. And Grandma sends her best red garters———pardon me, I mean her best regards.

* * * * *

Puffy Forthman (to Coach Engle): Will you let me have $10.00?

Coach: With pleasure.

Puffy: Let me have $5.00 of it now.

Coach: Sure.

Puffy: Now, I owe you $5.00 and you owe me $5.00, so we'll call it even.

* * * * *

Mr. Wetzel: What cemetery is that we're passing?

Mr. Strine: That ain't no cemetery. Them's milestones.

* * * * *

Mr. Sulanke: Is Professor Smith satisfied with you?

Max: He must be. Today he said, "If all my pupils were like you, I'd resign tomorrow!" That shows he thinks I know enough.

* * * * *

Miss Hoover: Dorothy, give me a sentence using the pronoun I.

Dot Kauffman: I is—

Miss Hoover: Not "I is"; you should say, "I am".

Dot: All right. I am the 9th letter in the alphabet.

* * * * *

Mr. Bechtel: Holles, give me three collective nouns.

Holles Dick: Flypaper, waste basket, and garbage can.
